Your personal Facebook Messenger chat will be renamed with your name and have all coaches included to answer questions, help select wardrobe or head shots, review walking, selecting a system, practice intro, and optional competition videos. If you are asking direct content about coaching or systems you should compete in, sessions can be used or we will ask that you sign up for Social Media Coaching. Chats are green when social media coaching begins and will be turned red when the month ends. You must let the coaches know if you want to renew when your chat turns red.
